The People's Column

M. B. Easters, farmer of Kurten community, says:

"The first tomatoes I brought to town I got 10 cents per pound for them; then they got down to 2 1-2 cents and I quit bringing them."

"The first cantaloupes brought 80c per dozen and now I cannot sell them for three cents a piece so I leave them at home."

"As to watermelons, they do not bring enough to pay to haul them out of the patch. I could take them where I trade and get something for them but they don't really want them either."

"Now then, the only way I see to diversify is to plant plenty of feed and a small cotton crop and let the rest of the land grow up to grass."

"The solution, as I see it, is to get a market for our produce before we grow them—then build a cannery in Bryan so that there will be one grade, a uniform grade, of things put up for sale, and then we can market the produce of the farm in Brazos county."

Baby Is Found In A Box On the Waco Highway

WACO, July 21.—While driving a truck on the Waco-Temple highway about ten miles south of Waco, Alton Cook discovered a girl baby a month or six weeks old in a pasteboard box on the side of the road early Tuesday. His attention was attracted by the wiggling of the box. He stopped the car, made an investigation and discovered the infant. The child was taken first to Lorena, thirteen miles south of Waco, and given attention, then brought to Waco and placed in a rescue home.

Joe Schovajsa Has Fine Peaches

Joe Schovajsa, who makes his home on his father's farm just northeast of Wheelock on the line between Brazos and Robertson counties, was in Bryan yesterday and brought to The Eagle office a sample bag of his Elberta peaches. While not as large as some we have had, they were more merchantable as they were uniform in size and delicious in flavor. Mr. Schovajsa has 14 trees from which he expects to gather about 75 bushels of these peaches. Added to this peach orchard he has 4 pear trees that are loaded so heavily with fruit that he has to prop the limbs to keep them from breaking. Mr. Schovajsa is a progressive, modern day farmer, believing in diversification and growing everything for home consumption on his farm. In the tract of land is 109 acres, 32 planted to cotton, 4 to milo maize, 12 to corn, 1 1-2 to sorghum, some to oats and to hay. The home garden is not overlooked, and all surplus vegetables and fruits that are not marketed are canned and stored away for the winter months. A good Jersey cow furnishes the milk and butter in abundance for the family. And 17 hogs, fattened by products from the farm, will supply the meat for the family. Mr. Schovajsa states he never saw finer prospects for crops in this part of the state. While there are some boll weevils, flea hoppers, and caterpillars at work, he predicts that the fruitage will put on so fast there will be little if any damage from these pests and the yield will be all that one can ask.

Evans, Navasota Banker, Guilty Of Embezzlement

(By Associated Press.)

Evans, vice president of the Farmers State Guaranty bank, charged with embezzlement in connection with the bank's failure in February, was concluded Monday night at Anderson, county seat, and the jury, after being out but a few minutes, rendered a verdict of guilty and sentence was fixed at five years in the penitentiary.

The case tried was for alleged embezzlement of $300 about February, 1925.

On Wednesday one of the cases against R. L. Renick, cashier, will be heard.

The grand jury in session in session in June returned 64 indictments in connection with the bank's failure, 28 against Evans and 14 against the two men jointly.

TEN THOUSAND MEN FIGHTING MAMMOTH FOREST FIRE HOTTEST DAY OF YEAR RECORDED OVER THE COUNTRY

PALL OF SMOKE COVERS ENTIRE NORTHWEST--DOZEN LIVES LOST

Most Disastrous Conflagration in Decade Sweeps Through Idaho, Montana and California Leveling Great Forests In Its Path--Over Half Million Acres of Forest Glutted.

(By Associated Press)
MISSOULA, Mont., July 21.—A pall of smoke rising from the embers of forest brush fires that have eaten their way across a half million acres of land, still shrouded the Northwest today while an army of fire fighters strove desperately to stem the advance of one of the most disastrous conflagrations that have beset this section of the country in a decade. Hundreds of widely-scattered blazes were being stubbornly resisted by at least 10,000 men. Eight thousand men have been drawn into the battle in California, where 270,000 acres have been burned over. Northern Idaho and Western Montana have suffered heavily. Upwards of 200,000 acres have been glutted in this region. Nearly a dozen lives have been taken by the fires.

Amon Williams And Family Off On A Long Tour

Mr. and Mrs. Amon C. Williams of this city, with their little son, Harry Wayne, left Monday by automobile for a trip of several weeks on pleasure and vacation. They will visit in Robstown, Corpus Christi, Bay City, San Antonio, and other points of interest before returning to their home in Bryan. During their absence, their daughter, Miss Alta Williams, is spending the time with her uncle, Jesse E. Hensarling, and family.

Wesley Brotherhood In First Meeting

One of the greatest strides the First Methodist Church of Bryan has taken in recent years to create interest and enthusiasm for church work was noted on Tuesday night when the men of the church, more than 60 in number, gathered in the young men's class room and enjoyed a banquet served by the women of Group No. 1 of the Woman's Missionary Society. The meeting was ably presided over by Dr. John W. Black, lay leader, who mixed humor and wisdom and served it out in proper quantity.

The meeting opened with the singing of the Doxology, led by Rip Erskine, retiring president of the Bryan Lions Club. E. J. Jenkins, chairman of the board of stewards of the church, returned thanks. Before being seated, the audience sang the first and last stanza of America from the Rotary song books provided for the occasion.

The women then served the meal, a dinner plate on which was fried chicken in ample abundance, creamed potatoes with chicken gravy, tomatoes, rolls, iced tea, water, ice cream and cake of different kinds, fruit cake and angel food predominating.

Following consumption of the repast, which was enjoyed in the intermission before the desert with the singing of a number of songs led by Rip Erskine, Jno. W. Black and W. R. Fairman. Dr. Black, presiding, called upon each man present to introduce the man at his left and tell something about him. This not only put the meeting in an informal spirit but created much amusement as some of the introductions were novel and original as well as full of humor.

Dr. Black then stated that there were only 24 speakers on his list and all had been informed in advance that they were expected to make a talk so any thing they might say about being called on suddenly would not be accepted. C. R. Gardner was the first speaker and he said that he thought that this step taken should lead to revolutionize the work of the church to an extent that one would not know the church 12 months from now.

County Agent C. L. Beason was asked to talk on the subject "Why Hair Won't Grow on Tom Adams' Head". Mr. Beason said that if the men present at this meeting would attend church and Sunday School, and would go with him out to the rural communities and assist there in putting over religious programs, in a year's time one could hear the echo of the progress of Brazos county in all parts of the state.

Oak McKenzie was asked to talk about "Two Minutes". He did. He said that people, if asked what was the most important institution in the county, would pass up schools, lodges, service clubs, etc., and without hesitation, name the church. Yet these same men give of their time and money to the other things, often to the neglect of the church. He appealed for greater support of religious things and organizations.

M. M. Erskine was called upon by Dr. Black to explain where C. R. Gardner got this perfect 36 figure. Erskine said that through his of Bryan he had caught a vision of connection with the Lions' club community and that he hoped the Wesley Brotherhood of the Methodist church would fill the same

Mr. Johnson states that the new engine was given a most thorough test on last Saturday night when it carried the entire city load of electric service and was taxed to 10 per cent over capacity. ## RAILROAD MEN WIRE UNABLE VISIT BRYAN

"Sorry, but, due to business engagements, we will be unable to attend Rotary Club tomorrow. Please express our regrets". That is the text of a message signed by C. H. Pugh, addressed to H. H. Number of Dead Reported from Summer's Greatest Heat Wave Spreading Into All Parts of The Nation--Ninety Degrees Registered in New England and Atlantic States.

(By Associated Press)
The summer's greatest heat wave was prevailing today. Reports from nearly all sections of the United States told of much suffering and recording a number of deaths attributed directly or indirectly to the intense heat. The thermometer registered 100 degrees yesterday in Iowa and Nebraska. Predictions for rain in these sections today brought the hope, however, of relief from the heat temperatures which yesterday passed 90 degrees in portions of Pennsylvania, New England, and New York, and which were expected to be generally surpassed today.

Bryan People Go To the Revival Held At Hearne

Tuesday evening found another big party of Bryan folk, bound for Hearne in automobiles, to attend the night services at the big tabernacle, where the Ham-Ramsey revival meeting is in progress. The party left Bryan at six o'clock, and stopped in a pretty spot "by the side of the road" and enjoyed a picnic supper, with hot coffee, ice tea, and followed by a big freezer of peach ice cream with home made cake. Those attending the Hearne meeting from Bryan were: Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Higgs, Miss Trannie Wren, Miss Aurea Rhodes, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Vick, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Prospect is just a small community but they have a little Union Sunday School of about twenty-five or thirty and meet regularly every Sunday afternoon. Rev. Thomson goes out one Sunday afternoon a month and preaches there and others preach at different times. If you sing or can help in any way the community would be glad to have you come out this week and worship with them in these services. Services every evening this week at 8 o'clock.

FRENCH DEBTS MUST BE FIRST SAYS HERRIOT

Employees Look For Victory In the Primary Election

(By Associated Press)
AUSTIN, July 21.—It will soon be over, so say the capital workers in speaking of the coming Democratic primaries Saturday. As a result of the Ferguson-Moody bet on their jobs as governor and attorney general, employees in both offices are expressing sorrow for each other. Confidence reigns supreme in both camps and the predictions of victory for each cause considerable amusement to the newspaper men, who listen to both tales intermittently.

The question being asked by the attorney general's followers is, "will Ferguson quit if Moody leads," and the Ferguson followers ask, "will Moody quit if Ferguson leads by 25,000 votes?" Political lines were drawn taut by the state employees today and suspicious whispers echo down the gaunt corridors. Little work is being done, and the air is full of thin conjectures.

Both sides apparently believe that the other won't get into the run-off primary and all sides hope there will be no second primary.

The outcome of the race governs the wherewithal for bread and butter, roof and clothes, for most of the employees.

YES, 'TIS TRUE
"It didn't used to be out it is now. There are just as many tin cans behind a farmer's house as there are around the house of his city cousin. He also has one standing in his garage," says the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.
Pity 'tis true, but 'tis true.

We notice in the Boy Scout Department of the last issue of The Progressive Farmer that Cliff Lopez of Kurten and Clyde Crisp of Vernon, Texas, are tied for first place for a gold medal, each of the boys having won eight members to the organization since a certain date. The Eagle has known for a long time that Cliff was a linguist, speaking three languages fluently; was an agriculturist, having won a trip to Chicago by producing, with the aid of irrigation, 1680 pounds of seed cotton or 620 pounds of lint cotton, on one acre of land; but this is the first time that information has been given of his activity as a Boy Scout. Evidently Cliff is as good a "scout" as he is a member of the Kurten boys' agricultural club.

BUILDING UP BRYAN
Some Greek philosopher and statesman, many years ago laid down the principle that towns and communities need not just grow, but that they can be made. He boldly told his people: "Most of the things that distress you, you can avoid; most of the things that dominate you, you can overthrow." Good philosophy to preach and still better to practice. A people possessed with that kind of philosophy can make over any town, and develop any county into a greater one. That there is an effort on the part of Bryan citizens to make Bryan over is abundantly evidenced by the number of improvements going on, widening of streets, adding municipal facilities, beautifying parks, strengthening the building code, etc., all tangible evidence of the co-operation of all for the betterment of the whole. That there is an effort to develop the farm interests of the county is plainly evident by the co-operation of the business men of the town with the county through the Chamber of Commerce in offering substantial prizes for the improvement of farm products and the building up of the soil. With all forces working together, co-operating for the benefit of both town and county, Bryan and Brazos will be made a better place in which to live and do business.

NEWSPAPER SINS

After about twenty years in the newspaper business, this editor has come to the conclusion that the most of a newspaper's sins are those of omission, rather than commission. If the editor writes up the achievements of one citizen, there are any number of citizens who think they deserve the same (if not greater) attention and prominence. If he boasts a local undertaking, others in like lines of endeavor think they too deserve a little boosting. All of which may be true in fact. Yet, at the same time, these same folks never put themselves out to call attention to their endeavors; never show the slightest sign of appreciation or notice of such little bits of publicity as they may have received, and, in fact, never call attention to the editor's lack of attention until after the "beans have been burnt."

There is not a newspaper man anywhere but who would rather tell a story correctly, than incorrectly; who would rather tell a story completely, than incompletely; who would rather deal in facts than fiction. He cannot scour the countryside in order to obtain all the different viewpoints on a question; neither can he hold up a matter of news indefinitely just because someone is waiting to be asked rather than to volunteer information. The newspaper man, if he be a newspaper man, must take the facts at hand, tell the story as fully, as completely, and as correctly as the circumstances warrant or enable him to do, and tell the news, while it's new.

So, if you have a news story worth the telling, don't expect the editor to be Christopher Columbus, and discover your story. Tell it to him; show it to him; get him to see it from your own enthusiastic standpoint. If you can't become enthused enough over your own proposition to go to that much trouble, it is not likely that an editor will want to spend his time on it.—San Saba News.

We had a man here who has been in a coma for so long that we feel he never will recover "conscientiously."

The trouble about a "sympathetic" toothache is there's always another hurting before you get the "sympathy."

VACATIONING AT HOME!

Ever so many times today we are greeted with the question: "Where are you going to spend your vacation?" and we invariably answer them by saying:

"Through the air, under the sea; Come the throbbing world to me; I can travel, I can roam, Sitting safely here at home."

There's no question but everyone needs a vacation and that travel brings much of pleasure into one's life; it also brings much knowledge and the feeling of interest with the great world of humanity that never comes to those who never get away from the confines of their own little home town. But roaming around isn't traveling. Going just for the sake of saying you have had a vacation and been away for the summer is not travel, that is tramping. The real vacationists and travelers have some objective, they know why they are abroad. It has been said by someone that sport is work without pay and it seems to us that the outings of many are hard work with very little pleasure.

Vacationing is largely a condition of the mind, anyway. When we think of the many discomforts of travels, the long hot days, and often the cold days, the struggles with the baggage and porters, we feel inclined to pity the globe trotter and be thankful that we are vacationing at home. Each morning at 5 o'clock we are up and off for a spin to the Country Club swimming pool, two and a half miles out. Fanned by the gentle early morning breezes and gladdened with the fragrance of flowers on every side; entertained by the singing of the mocking birds and invigorated by a dip in the cool waters we come back for a breakfast that would do justice a farm hand. At seven o'clock or shortly after we are at our desk ready for the battle of life, equipped with a spirit of faith that makes us to know that there is pleasure and happiness and comfort and contentment on every hand, if only we are inclined to stretch forth our hand to receive the generous share that should be and can be ours. Happiness comes from within and not from without.

WE ARE ALL POLITICIANS

Just one week and you have an opportunity to exercise your suffrage and help select the men and women who will manage the affairs of state, district, county and community for the next two years. This is a privilege every citizen enjoys, who has paid their poll tax. You can't escape the ballot box. It follows you home and everywhere, because votes decide taxes, schools, roads, prisons, charities, etc. If you don't vote, who will? Then if you don't vote, what right have you to complain about the way the government is run? How often do you hear men and women, good citizens, say: "I'm not in politics; I'm not a politician." Such a person is condemning their own citizenship. Hear what the revered and lamented Dean John C. Towne of the Law Department of the University of Texas used to tell his students each year as he trained them for the profession of law: "Every citizen in this democracy of ours who expresses an opinion regarding public affairs or who casts a vote is a politician. The constitution of our country wisely provided that every sane and serious thinking man and woman should be a politician. There should be no stigma attached to the name, only in so far as it is misinterpreted by the people themselves. Young men always take an active interest in young country's affairs. It's the mark of good citizenship. It's the work of honorable service."

And in giving a formulae as how to vote, Deane Towne said: "Don't make a poor farm out of your county court house. Don't vote for anyone who has to swell up to fill the office."

Dean Towne saw disaster ahead for any people who voted for someone out of sympathy and against some one out of prejudice. And predicted ruin for that unit of government conducted by someone who did not go to his daily duty in the spirit of humility and with hands and head trained capable of rendering a dollar's worth of service in exchange for every dollar received.

How often it is that the one who stands around on the corner and says he is not a politician and not interested in politics is the very first one to howl about how poorly the government affairs are run; makes charges of extravagance, high taxes, dishonesty, and speaks in terms of distrust concerning his government and everybody connected with it. Of course, this is a free country and one has a right to speak out against practices he deems detrimental to good government; but surely every citizen's first duty is to vote and show an interest in matters of public affairs. Now don't "kid" yourself into believing because you don't vote you are not in politics. Every man and woman in a land like America are politicians and are in some way in politics. There are good politicians and bad politicians. Some commit sins of commission and others of omission, but they are all politicians, just the same.

NEW DIESEL ENGINE UNIT IS NOW ON TEST AT THE POWER PLANT—TEST WILL END ON WEDNESDAY

On Thursday afternoon at three o'clock began the test on the new Diesel Engine unit at the Bryan Power Plant. This test will be maintained until next Wednesday when the city will pass on the unit and accept or reject it as either meeting or failing to meet the contract made with the Busch-Sulzer Brothers Diesel Engine Company. The engine is in full operation. There was practically no vibration from this big 600-horse power, six cylinder engine, as there is from the smaller four-cylinder engines.

Passing up on the platform around the top of the engine by a ladder, it was noted that the top of the engine looks like the top of a Buick or Chevrolet valve-in-head motor, with the exception that there are no spark plugs. The engine is marvelous and when the tour of inspection was made by Mr. Miller and Commission H. A. Burger, they found this type of Diesel engine the best lubricated on the market.

No two cylinders fire at the same time and each cylinder does the test period, to determine if the engine meets the requirements of the contract.

The engine was installed and put in operation, as well as being under direction in the test of Carl Johnson of the Busch-Sulzer Bros. Company. He very courteously explained matters to the reporter, as did Mr. Miller.

Passing down into the new addition, the reporter found that the new brick addition to the power plant, included not only the room on the south which houses the new engine unit, but also extends almost the same amount of work as another. This engine was started at 3:00 yesterday and last night pulled the entire load of the city, running at nine-tenths capacity. It is planned to operate this engine on the heavy head of Saturday night, when it will be taxed to more than capacity.

A chart is being kept of the record of the engine's performance as to load and the amounts of oil and fuel used and a copy of this chart will be kept by the city management to use, at the close along the west side of the plant. The former west wall still stands but will be removed when time is convenient. In the new west room will be located the new home of city.

CLIFF LOPEZ IS IRRIGATING ONE-ACRE CORN TRACT TODAY—WILL MAKE ONE HUNDRED BUSHELS

Cliff Lopez, Kurten boys' agricultural club member, expects to clear about $150 from his corn tract of just one acre, which he anticipated will yield 100 bushels of corn. That he is not far off in his estimate is the opinion of others who have seen his corn that stands 8 and 9 feet in height and bears the promise of two, three and four ears to the stalk, with several stalks to the hill and few skips in the field. This morning Cliff, son of a Mexican tenant farmer, is irrigating the field with the water from Cedar Creek, the water supplied from a reservoir above a dam which Cliff constructed with the help of his father, a year ago this spring.

Visitors to the corn tract on Wednesday afternoon were: County Agent C. L. Beason and daughters, Emma and Frances; John Vick and H. D. Cuykendall of the Bryan Eagle. Mr. Beason took a number of pictures with his kodak, of the project and the dam, as well as of Cliff Lopez while the Eagle Reporter got a very good story of the project and of the club work of Lopez since he first began to be interested in farming on his own hook.

The dam visited was found to consist of earth and lumber, the total length being about 24 feet, extending across a narrow place in cedar creek. Boards protect the earth; part of the dam for about half of the total distance, or six feet on each side and then the lumber is used in the spill-way. Large timbers are used in the run-way and boards can be inserted to raise the water to any desired height, up to the level of the dam. The dam was put into service early Wednesday morning and at 5:00 on that evening the water had been

RAY JONES IS HERE ON VISIT

Ray Jones, assistant Sports Editor of the Waco Times-Herald, is in Bryan visiting his many relatives and friends. He plans to leave Wednesday to return to Waco and will probably enter Baylor summer term next Monday, at the same time keeping up his work for the Times-Herald. He is making good on this work and the position will carry him through Baylor. He is also adding to his financial returns by writing for several other papers over the country, having had a long article in the Houston Post-Dispatch yesterday. Bryan people are glad to hear of the success that Mr. Jones is experiencing in his field of work at Waco.

When the plant was first put into operation, it held but one small switchboard carrying 2300 volts and of a rather crude type of construction so that it was always "hot" for workmen to handle. As the plant grew to meet the requirements of the city, the switchboard was added to until now, without the new engine unit, it is more than double the original size. The new switchboard unit is now in the addition and so built that the panel carries but 110-volt load and the 2300 volt is all in the rear with ample space between for workmen to pass through without danger. In addition, when it is necessary to work on this new switchboard, this engine unit can be cut off and another engine started that operates on other sections of the board, thus cutting off the entire electric charge from the new board entirely, making it absolutely safe for workmen to handle.

L. E. Warren, city electrician, was in charge of the installation of the new switchboard, following instructions on blue prints sent out by General Electric Company. Mr. Warren now has a man's size job confronting him in removing the old switchboards from the inside of the plant proper to their new home beside the new switchboard in the addition on the west and making these conform to the new method of construction that will make them as safe as can be for workmen. It is indeed a task for an electrician to figure out and keep all the details in his head as he progresses with his work. But, when all is completed, the power plant will be an institution of which the city of Bryan may well be proud and well worth the inspection trip of any citizen.

Charley Ramsey is the efficient city employee in charge of the Bryan power plant.

When all construction work has been completed in the plant proper, City Manager J. Bryan Miller hopes to grade up the street leading down by the plant, on the west side from the end of north Main, passing down along the buildings of the Western Public Service Company. This street will be fixed up and made as good as any of the dirt streets in the city.

backed up until it was 7 feet deep in the reservoir above the dam and the level of the water at the dam about 8 or 10 feet above the level of the water in the creek below the dam. This dam and reservoir was first used last spring a year ago when Cliff had cotton planted on the same acre which is now growing such wonderful corn. He built the dam when he anticipated the drought that came and got his cotton up by using the waters of his improvised reservoir. The ditch from the dam to the field which is 200 or 300 yards long, was run without the use of the level, Cliff's father having had experience in irrigation work in Old Mexico. They run the ditch, using only the eye for a level, assisted by the flow of water to keep it at the proper flow—not too fast an drop too slow, but following the high ridge with just a slight gravity fall.

Cliff said Wednesday afternoon that when the water had risen 12 inches higher in the dam, which would be this morning, the water would then have reached a sufficient height to flow into the ditch that leads to the corn patch. The tract of corn is only about 4-feet above the level of the water in the creek and the dam raises the water to such a height that it will readily flow down to the corn field, which is down stream from the dam and the creek falls so much to the mile in addition.

Cliff hopes to win another trip to Chicago with his tract of corn entered as a project in the Kurten Club and may win a trip to Washington as well. There being two trips offered this year to the National Capital with all expenses paid.

BADE FUNERAL HELD SUNDAY

The funeral of W. H. Bade, whose death occurred at his home in Highbanks, Texas, Friday afternoon, was held at the McCulloch-Gordon Undertaker's chapel in Bryan, Monday morning at ten o'clock. Rev. R. E. Day, pastor of the First Baptist Church conducted the service at the chapel, and accompanied the funeral train to Howth where services were again held at the grave. Many Bryan friends of the deceased also accompanied the remains to Howth.

HUMBERT INSTALLED ROTARY PRESIDENT

Programs at Rotary luncheons are assuming ever-wider interest and enthusiasm. Two weeks ago the new officers for the beginning of the sixth year's work in Bryan were installed, the retiring president, Dr. John W. Black, being presented with a fine Gruen watch in token of his excellent work as president. The watch bears the Rotary emblem, date, the past president's name suitably engraved thereon. In presenting the gift, Rotarian W. S. Barron said that he hoped the Dr. would be even more punctual in his answers to the call of duty with his new watch than he had been by the aid of the discarded "turnip."

Following on the heels of this program came D. L. Wilson, who told of his wonderful trip to the great Rotary meeting at Denver where Harry Rogers was made president of Rotary International, and where the "big guns" fired broad sides at thousands of delegates in attendance. D. L. stated that the one note ringing out clear above all others was that manifesting a desire for world peace, no foreign country being favorable to any candidate unless he was in favor of world peace. Rotarian Wilson bordered on eloquence when he was describing the landscape about Denver, the snow-capped mountains of Pike's Peak, and the blood-red cherries of the slopes. He did not tell it all—at least his fellow companions say so—but it must have been a wonderful trip. Then following this program on July 7, came Gene Humbert's inaugural address, so to speak, on July 14, thus bringing three fine programs in direct succession.

What may we expect of Rotary this year?

In beginning his talk, Dr. Humbert stated that he did not want

NEGRO IS HELD FOR SHOOTING WIFE FRIDAY

DEE WILLIAMS IN COUNTY JAIL FOLLOWING DEATH OF HIS WIFE LAST NIGHT.

Shotgun Went Off

NEGRO AND WIFE HAD QUARREL—NEGRO SAYS WAS A STRUGGLE OVER GUN.

(From Saturday's Daily)
Dee Williams, negro, is in the county jail, having given himself up last night following the death of his wife as a result of being shot in the stomach with the load of a sixteen gauge, single-barreled shotgun at their tenant home on the Pink Barron farm, near Welborn yesterday evening. The negro, in a talk with County Attorney Oak McKenzie, declared that he and his wife had quarreled all day long and that she had threatened to leave home and then changed her mind. He said he then tried to get her to go and finally he grabbed the shotgun. She declared that in the struggle the gun exploded, the charge taking effect in her stomach. She died a few hours later. Dee Williams then went to the home of his land-lord and told of the affair and asked that he be brought to the officers.

Negro Lad Gets Two of W. S. Barron's Autos

A mania for driving cars seems to have impelled John Lee Hall, negro boy aged about 12, to have driven off a couple of W. S. Barron's cars without permission, thereby getting himself locked up in the Brazos county jail by Sheriff Jess Conlee. Last night he took the touring car from in front of the Barron home and drove it out on the Smetana road where it went dead on him. He phoned to the local garage and had them come out and fix it when he drove back toward town. On the way he ran the car into a ditch and damaged it some, later bringing it back to the garage and hitting the side of the building as he went in, damaging it some more.

This morning Mr. Barron left the car in front of the Howell building as he came to his office evidently wanting to try it out, and the negro boy took the coupe, He again drove out on the Smetana road and back, and as he was coming down Main Street he ran into a car driven by Mrs. W. E. Nealey, smashing up both cars to some extent.

MRS. HINES REPORTED SAFE IN EUROPE ON DELAYED TRIP

Great uneasiness has been felt by relatives and friends of Mrs. John B. Hines of Houston during the past several days. Mrs. Hines sailed with a party of Houston friends for Europe, and was due to land there about July 11th. No word was heard from the party until Saturday, July 17th, when J. T. Hines of Bryan received word from his son, J. B. Hines of Houston, telling of the late but safe arrival of the ship in harbor. Deep fogs was the cause of the delay, making the passage time four days longer than was anticipated.

what he might have to say to be considered an inaugural address, but to say the least of it, certainly had the "ear marks" of one. Among other things he said, "One year ago the new president of Rotary told us in brief address that his ambition was that under his reign Rotary should make of each member a better man. 'To my mind' said Dr. Humbert, John Black epitomized in these few words the real purpose of Rotary". It would not be fair for me to repeat his speech, if I could, nor can you expect me to choose a better theme than his. I will attempt, however, to say about the same thing in different words. What may we expect of Rotary this year? What can you as an individual member expect it to do for you? And then, since we claim to be a service club, what has Bryan a right to expect from Rotary. Peter and John, when about to enter the Temple by way of the Beautiful Gate, were accosted by a beggar who expected alms. Peter replied, "Silver and gold have I none, but such as I have give I thee". And the thing that Peter gave was the best gift possible. He put the man on his feet, on his own feet where he could do for himself. He could work and sweat and serve. He might make less money than by begging, and his leisure was snatched away, but he was a producing member of society instead of being a dead weight, and we are told that he was happy; he could praise God.

Just a brief parallel. Are you the man in need? Are you cross, or cranky, or suspicious, or grasping, self centered, lonesome? Do your competitors anger you? Have you reached the point of being satisfied with your own righteousness? Are you willing to live in a

MR. AND MRS. NEDBALEK VISITORS FROM WHEELLOCK

Mr. and Mrs. John Nedbalek of Wheellock were in Bryan today and guests of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Nedbalek. While here Mr. Nedbalek visited the Eagle office. He reports crops in his community, the Cavitt ranch the best prospects in years. His corn crop of 24 acres is fine and already made, the fifty acres of cotton promises to make a good yield and with plenty of sorghum and other feed stuff already an assured success. Mr. Nedbalek is quite optimistic over the crop situation for 1926.

Order of White Lion Conferred On W.S. Howell, Jr.

Bryan friends will be interested to know that W. S. Howell, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Howell, has been honored by the Czech-Slovak government. Through the Czech-Slovak Minister, the information has been conveyed to Mr. Howell, that his government has bestowed upon him the Order of the White Lion, the highest decoration of that country. The honor comes from the splendid services rendered by Mr. Howell while stationed there in 1920 to 1922. This is a worthy honor, worthily bestowed and we feel will be worthily worn. It is always gratifying to Bryan citizens when their sons and daughters are honored, and reflect credit on their home town.

Mrs. J. F. Hurff Gets Letter By Carrier Pigeon

Mrs. J. F. Hurff has received a letter from her son, Lawrence, who is at Camp Bullis, near San Antonio, on target range, by carrier pigeon. The letter was sent from Camp Bullis on the 16th and reached Fort Sam Houston carrier pigeon loft about an hour later. It was then removed from the pigeon and placed in an envelope and forwarded to Mrs. Hurff. The envelope in which the letter was placed on the carrier pigeon, has to be returned to the pigeon loft at San Antonio, according to instructions in the letter written by E. V. McPherson, the messenger who forwarded the letter.

Lawrence writes that everything is O. K. there. "Save this letter when you receive it. Mail it to me a letter this morning. Saw a movie here last night. Lots of love."

J. F. Hurff Is In Houston to Sell 500 Glasses of His Fine Jelly

(From Saturday's Daily)
J. F. Hurff, principal of the Kurten school, recently made quite famous over the state by his preparation of Dr. Hurff's jelly, put up in Bryan and sold all over Texas, left Friday morning by car for Houston to dispose of 500 glasses of his jelly and to bring back as many as he could of an order of 700 jugs in which to can up the grape juice and from which the jelly will be made later as the demand for the jelly warrants its manufacture.

dirty, unsanitary house, or street or town? In short, are you more or less unworthy of the love and respect of your fellowman? I dare say that all of us fall short in one or many ways. Is there any help for such short comings in a service club? What has Rotary to offer? We must have some faith. We must expect an alms. What kind of help will we get? No silver; no gold. Rotary does not promise financial reward, nor does it teach that success should be measured in dollars and cents. What help, then, can it give? Perhaps it can teach you and me to help ourselves. Help us to stand on our feet—feet crippled by selfishness. Maybe we can get a crutch in the shape of a new and better view point. Perhaps, if we learn to serve better, we will profit more. Many who have tried it out tell us it is true: "He profits most who serves best." Many of

Fifty Bushel Acre Corn Grown By Mr. L. Stephan

George Stephan brought to The Eagle office this morning three large, long, well rounded out and well filled ears of white, Dent corn, picked this morning from the 40 acre field of his father, L. Stephan, located near the Koppe Bridge, about 14 miles from Bryan. From all indications the field will make between 1,500 and 2,000 bushels, or from 40 to 50 bushels to the acre. The corn is already made without any more rain, the kernels already hardening to a considerable degree.

Harvey Netted Over $50 From The Pie Supper

A pie supper and attendant sale of cakes, refreshments, candy, etc., netted the Harvey Cemetery Association between $50 and $75 last night. A cake was sold by Secretary S. E. Eberstadt for $22.50 the fixed price, he also selling pie to bidders paying what the maker of the pie weighed and at auction, also, for a total of more than $15 and a box of candy for $2.00. A refreshment stand, operated in connection with the festivity sold cold drinks, ice cream cones and sandwiches. Following the festivity E. U. Peters presided during the speaking by the candidates for office, about 8 or 10 speaking at more or less length on behalf of their candidacy.

Double-Header Meeting Held At Smetana School

Smetana held a double-header meeting last night at the school house, the boys' and girls' agricultural clubs meeting at 8:00 in regular monthly session and the men of the community meeting to discuss the further plans for the big barbecue to be held on July 21, next Wednesday. It was one of the most interesting club meetings ever held at Smetana and every member was present but one, answering to roll call. County Agent C. L. Beason told them that if they kept up that record for their next meeting, they would be among the winners in the next contest of the Howell Lumber Company, closing August 31st. Songs and yells were featured in the meeting. A candy matching game was played. A large box held broken candy and each club member passed by and took two or three pieces of candy and later were matched. Charley Campesi and Clara Wright matching the most and therefore being the winners, matching being by couples. James Siegert held practice on the club song and yells to be used on Brazos County Encampment Day. Lemonade prepared by the club members was served to all present in abundance.

Credit Is Given To Bryan High Economics Dept.

Superintendent Madison Hall of the Bryan Public School received word this morning from the State Department of Education at Austin that additional affiliated credits had been granted the home economics department of the Bryan high schools. This should be gratifying to all citizens of Bryan, whether they have children in school or not. Every good citizen is vitally interested in the schools of the community. The policy of adding additional affiliated credit to the school each year is one adopted by Supt. Madison Hall and a very commendable one. Bryan has good schools, but they can be improved and all should support the Superintendent, teachers and trustees and lend every aid in furthering the needs of our public schools.

Herbert Tucker And Miss Craig Wed On Saturday

Herbert Tucker, popular employee of the Haswell Book Store for several years, and Miss Ruth Craig, employed at the A. and M. College, and who has been staying at the J. B. Sanders home, were married Saturday evening at 8 o'clock, Rev. R. E. Day, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiating. The bride and groom spent Sunday in Marlin on a pleasure trip, but Mr. Tucker, who has already had his vacation from the store, is back on duty today as usual.

B. SBISA IS VISITING IN HAVANA, CUBA, JUST NOW

Bryan friends received greetings by today's post from B. Sbis, who is in Havana, Cuba, with his daughter, Mrs. E. W. Kerr. Mr. Sbis writes he will be in Cuba for an indefinite time. "Having a wonderful stay and find it much cooler in Cuba than in Texas," he writes.

TOM RAYSOR OF BRYAN GETS A FELLOWSHIP AND GOES TO THE BRITISH ISLES FROM NEW YORK

Friends of Dr. Thomas Raysor have just been notified of the appointment of Dr. Raysor by the John Simon Guggenheim Foundation of New York City for a Fellowship issued for research work. The Foundation, established a year ago with a fund of $3,000,000 by the one time United States Senator from Colorado and Mrs. John Simon Guggenheim as a memorial to a son, has appropriated $100,000 for the coming year that 37 American scholars may carry on foreign study in the form of research work. The Fellowships are awarded to those engaged in creative art in all lines as well as to those in literary work, and the list includes some of the most brilliant scholars in America. Each Fellowship carries with it a mark of distinction and a very handsome annuity. The stipend is usually $2,500 for a period of twelve months but in every case it is adjusted to the needs of the individual appointed. Under the Guggenheim Fellowship, Dr. Raysor is directed to prepare a new edition of S. T. Coleridge's literary criticism, principally in the British Museum and the Bodleian Library, Oxford, England.

The friends of Tom Raysor, as he was known in Bryan, and who is a son of Dr. and Mrs. P. M. Raysor, have watched with a great deal of interest the career of this Bryan boy. While a student at Harvard, Tom won great distinction in the fact that at the close of each year he was given the highest possible honors for a student doing that year of work in the school of English at Harvard. For four years Tom continued this brilliant record and after spending several months at Sorbonne University, he returned to Harvard where he completed his Doctor of Philosophy degree. When this degree was conferred on Tom he was also given the Fellowship from Harvard known as the Sheldon Fellowship, which carried with it direction for one year of research work abroad. The last signal honor given young Raysor is one of the 37 Fellowships granted this year by the Guggenheim Foundation. To be called for such research work by such authorities is indeed a great honor, as only the most learned and worthy scholars of the United States are given consideration.

PRIMARY ELECTION RETURNS TO BE RECEIVED BY EAGLE PTG. COMPANY ON NIGHT OF JULY 24

The public will be interested to know that the primary election returns, both county and state, will be received in Bryan by The Eagle Printing Company on the night of July 24th. The county returns will be given to The Eagle by the precinct chairmen of the various precincts in the county in which elections are held and will be tabulated on a large board to be placed in front of the Eagle Printing Company in the awning in front of the building, where the crowd, gathered in the street in front of the office can easily get the returns. The board will be well lighted so that everyone can read the results, which will be totalled as soon as all the returns have been received. While this board will not be the official returns of the election, at the same time it will be as accurate as it can possibly be with the returns coming in by telephone direct from the precinct chairmen who are in charge of the different election boxes.

The state returns will come through the Texas Election Bureau at Dallas and in the form of bulletins over the Western Union wire. The bulletins will comprise some 1,500 to 2,000 words, as necessary to send a bulletin on the governor's race every 15 minutes until 9:00; a bulletin on all contested state races every 30 minutes until 11:30 o'clock; and occasional bulletins giving returns from the larger counties. Returns from the Republican primary will be included to the extent that interest may seem to justify but probably on the governor's race only. The first bulletin probably will be sent at 7 o'clock. On Sunday morning following, the state totals will be filed at 12:30 and 1:30 election night. Another state total will be given at 1 p. m. and another at 8 p. m. so long as totals are available and desired.

REV. C. B. THOMPSON SPEAKER FOR UNION SERVICE HELD IN COURT HOUSE SUNDAY NIGHT

Rev. C. B. Thompson, pastor of the Bryan Free Baptist church, preached at the third of the series of union services, held by the protestant church of the city on Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. The College Avenue Baptist church was the hostess church for this occasion and the services were held in their regular meeting place at the court house. Many beautiful ferns, with silver baskets of shasta daisies placed here and there, made an attractive decoration for the hour. W. S. Barron, presided at the service in the absence of the pastor, Rev. Roy S. Hollomon who is out of the city, holding a series of revival meetings. With Miss Erin Jolly as pianist, the choir rendered several numbers, and the congregation singing was splendid. Mrs. Geo. A. Long, sang a solo, and a trio was rendered by three visiting young men from San Antonio, whose names the reporter could not ascertain.

Chicken-Pox Virus Is Prepared By Dr. Dunn of College

(Special to The Eagle). COLLEGE STATION, July 16. —The annual supply of chicken-pox virus for Texas, enough to inoculate 5000 chickens against the disease, has been prepared by Dr. R. C. Dunn, associate professor of veterinary medicine and surgery at the A. and M. College of Texas. The poultry remedy weighs more than a pound, and when put up in the form in which it is dispensed, will be sold for 2c per dose which is considerably less than it can be bought elsewhere in the country. Each year Dr. Dunn prepares the virus from the scabs on the combs of cocks which have been inoculated for the disease. The virus will be sold to poultry breeders in the state.

This is in correction of a story in Thursday's Eagle in which the price was erroneously given as $11.00.

Bentleys Are Home From Trip to West

Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Bentley and son, Wesley, and daughter, Ann, returned home yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock by car from a long trip through the states of Wyoming, Utah, Colorado, Nevada, California, Arizona, and New Mexico, the trip taking them six weeks to complete. Points visited were Salt Lake City, a week at Lake Tahoe, San Francisco and El Paso. At Lake Tahoe Mr. Bentley attended the meeting of the National Society of Agricultural Engineers from June 21 to 24.

The Bentleys made 13 mountain passes but their brake linings on the Ford are the same as put on many years ago, the car making the trip causing very little trouble. The same rear casings are on the car but two front casings were purchased on the trip, the ones on the car when they left being quite well worn.

They found roads good as long as they stayed on the trans-continental highways, but poor when they got on the by-roads. They went first to Denver and then up to Laramie, Wyoming, thence across by direct route to Salt Lake City. In California they drove for days on pavement.

Cotton Stalk With Over Fifty Good Squares On It

W. H. Ryan, tenant on the W. E. Graham farm at Rock Prairie, reading in the Eagle about the fine cotton, began to get worried about the 70 acres in his field and he and Mr. Graham took a walk out in it. Mr. Ryan says they went out in the center of the field and picked a stalk that seemed to be a little above the average and brought it in to town. This stalk is now on display at the Eagle office. It is fully three feet in height, has 25 bolls, 17 of them fully matured, and one bloom. The squares on this stalk total 54. Mr. Ryan estimates that he is going to make 50 bales of cotton off his 70 acres and perhaps more. This is the finest stalk that has come in to the Eagle office yet this year and is from prairie land.

The People's Column

J. H. White, Jr., farmer of Tabor community, has probably brought his last load of watermelons to Bryan and the rest will go to waste in the field. This is not because he doesn't want to sell them—he does—but he can't. He came to town this morning with a load and found the market glutted with melons and he tried to dispose of them to local merchants but there was no market at any price. He offered to sell them for 10 cents a piece. When last seen Mr. White had not sold them either.

Mr. White declared that he had enough tomatoes at home to fill his wagon bed twice over with the product of his place but that he had already found it useless to bring them in to Bryan as there was no demand at all for them—he could not give them away.

Last spring, said Mr. White, everyone told us not to plant such a large cotton acreage. I cut mine down. I had the land that was not used for cotton to plant to something else. I planted some to truck. I had an over supply and wanted to sell some in Bryan. I can not sell it. Next year I will have learned the lesson and will plant only as much as I want for home use. If other farmers do this same thing, which is very likely, Bryan will have to again pay the high prices for shipped in products.

Mr. White said he recently brought some tomatoes into Bryan—before the demand had entirely ceased. He said he called on a local merchant and that the merchant told him he could not use any as he already had eight crates on hand. When asked where the crates came from, the merchant said he had shipped them in. "I told the merchant," said Mr. White that I had bought my last dime's worth at that store. The merchants of Bryan complain of the farmers buying from mail order houses and then they buy their goods out of town when there is plenty of it being raised at home and they could help their own community and their farmer friends by buying the produce of Brazos county farms.

I am not alone in this matter, said Mr. White. Right in my home community of Tabor there are many other farmers in the same boat. I could have better planted my acreage to cotton and sold it for eight cents per pound than to have planted it to watermelons and tomatoes and had no market at all. It would have made me money.

What Bryan needs is a market and it must have a market. If you will look over the records of the county you will find that many farmers have moved away from this section in the last two or three years. And they are the more progressive ones too. Why this emigration? The farmers want a place where they can sell the things that they produce. It is up to the city of Bryan, if they want to really help the farmer, so they can help themselves, to provide it. The Chamber of Commerce at Bryan should awaken to the need for supplying the market for our wares. Something must be done and that soon. Next year is going to be too late for the farmers are not going to plant much truck stuff another year and they are going to be wary of advice offered them—even if it be good advice.

Senator R. S. Bowers of Caldwell was a visitor in Bryan today on personal business. While here Senator Bowers visited many of his friends who always extend the "glad hand" of welcome. Senator Bowers is a hold-over and his term of office does not expire until two years hence. He represents the 14th Senatorial District composed of Robertson, Brazos, Washington, Burleson, Lee and Wadsworth.

When asked about the political situation Senator Bowers gave as his opinion that the present governor, Miriam A. Ferguson would lead the ticket and that there would be a run-off in the August primaries.

Baptists Take A Good Game From The Harvey Team

The Baptists got the long end of a closely contested ball game at Allen Field yesterday, the final score being 4 to 2. The Harvey batters could hit anytime, except when hits were needed. At the beginning of the fifth and last inning Harvey managed to get three runners on bases with three singles, and then Harvey flew out in three pop-ups. Blasenz began the game for the Baptists on the mound, and pitched good ball until the fourth when Gammon relieved him, and retired the side with three outs after the bases were full.

Harvey made some errors that kept scores from the home plate. Bullock pitched good ball. The Harvey team got six hits and Bullock struck out six men. Blasenz allowed one man his base by being hit by the pitcher, and Gammon hit one also. The Baptist team got five hits but the hit when they needed them.

The line of the teams follows:

Italian Woman Brot to Hospital With Broken Leg

Mrs. Katherine Ingordona, widow of the late Sam Ingordona of Mudville, was brought to Bryan Hospital in a Bryan ambulance this morning for special treatment of a broken leg from which she has been suffering since last Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Ingordona was at her home, and after the little rain of Tuesday afternoon, went out in the front gallery and started down the steps when her foot slipped, and she fell to the ground, breaking her left leg.

Brazos Elbertas Biggest Ones Yet

And still they grow bigger and bigger in Brazos. Today M. S. Broach of Tabor brought to The Eagle office a half dozen select peaches, the best yet we have seen. They measured 10x11 inches, Elberta variety, red-tipped and yellow meated and as fine flavored as the best. Mr. Broach has 100 peach trees, well loaded, having already sold 75 bushels from them. He has 55 pear trees, 2 acres of watermelons, and other fruits and vegetables. If there is anyone in the state or out of it, that can beat these peaches, we would like for you to produce the tangible evidence. Old Brazos, the best, is still leading.

Nervous hot flashes

"Some time ago when I was in a very nervous, run-down condition," says Mrs. Martha F. Mayfield, of Broken Bow, Okla., "I tried numerous remedies to try at least to keep going, but I could not. I was weak and tired—just no good at all. My back ached and I had hot flashes until I was so very nervous I could not sleep and I was never hungry, and I kept getting weaker. I couldn't stand on my feet. This was an unusual condition for me as I had been pretty strong all along. I knew that I would have to do something, and that pretty soon."

"Some friend suggested that I take Cardui, and it certainly was a good suggestion, for after taking one bottle I could tell it was stronger and better. I didn't quit. I kept it up and did fine. I felt like a different person after I began taking Cardui." Cardui has helped thousands of suffering women. Sold by all druggists.

BOAZOS COUNTY Boys' and Girls' Club Department Club Notes and Farm News by County Agent C. L. Beason

Cotton Production Problematical. and tell him, or, her, you would Cotton production in Brazos like to make them a present of county, as in many other counties, this Short Course opportunity. Or is at this time problematical, perhaps many Bryan people would Judging from the appearance of have some boy or girl in the county the cotton plant one might con- trary in whom they are interested, clude that a bumper crop is as- sured, but a close inspection would show no fruit set, supposedly due to the work of the cotton flea. Those best acquainted with habits of this pest say the infestation may cease in time for a crop to be put on. Already some fields show improvement, while others are yet badly infested. One field inspected the first of this week had the appearance of one making a bale to the acre, but close examination showed not enough bolls set to make a bale on 20 acres. Hence, we say the cotton crop is yet problematical. Let's hope it turns out well. Take no chances on saving the wonderful feed crop we have made; we can use it to good advantage.

On last Thursday night the Smetana boys and girls club had a meeting with only one member absent. Dennis Cahill, president of the club, has "blood" in his since Edge and Shirock beat his club for first and second place in the last contest. Here's fair warning; keep your eyes on Smetana in the contest closing August 31st.

Kraft Gives Scholarship. In the seventh month, on the fourteenth day thereof, comes J. Horace Kraft, of the tribe of Bryan Rotarians, and offers a free scholarship to the great A. and M. Short Course, and freckled faced club boy or rosy-cheeked club girl being eligible to compete for same. Full particulars will be given at the club encampment on Thursday, July 22. Don't miss it.

Culling Out the Flocks. Poultry club members should see to it that their chickens are given the best of attention during the summer. Sell all culls, but keep the best pullets and cockerels for breeding purposes. They will bring good prices, if properly cared for. Nobody wants a sorry looking chicken, whether of the featherly tribe or other kind.

Best Feed Crop In Years. H. H. Williamson's father, living at Bedia is credited with saying that he has been coming to Bryan for high on to 40 years, but never before saw greater feed crops than are seen through the Kurten community. Kurten, make your bow to Mr. Williamson.

Tests of Soil Deficiency. Through the courtesy of E. B. Reynolds, of the Experiment Station, co-operating with County Agent C. L. Beason, several demonstrations were made in Brazos county last week in soil deficiency by means of plant analysis, the work being done by E. B. Coffman, working in co-operation with Purdue University and the United States Department of Agriculture. This method of testing soil deficiency by means of plant analysis is said to have been originated by G. N. Hoffer, of Lafayette, Indiana, and consists in testing a longitudinal section of the green corn stalk for nitrates, excessive iron, etc., and testing both top soil and sub-soil for acidity. Four demonstrations, or tests, were made in Brazos county—one on the J. M. Atkins farm, one on the J. K. Presnal farm, one on Supt. McDonald's farm, and one on E. J. Payne's farm. Each form showed acid soils, and some of them showed excessive iron in the plant.

Short Course Attendance. Brazos county club boys and girls should attend the A. and M. College Short Course. It is an opportunity affording a liberal education to both old and young anxious to get the quintessence of method and practice in farming, home making, etc. The scholarships offered will go to the scholars leaving hundreds to pay their own way. Some may do this; others will not be able. Board and lodging for the week will be six or seven dollars. If you are looking for a real investment, pick out some worthy club boy or girl and send him or her to the Short Course.

Mrs. and Mrs. Frank Lero, of Rye community, six miles northwest of Bryan, was hit by a car driven by a negro, Saturday afternoon about 5:00 o'clock while crossing the street at the intersection of Main and 25th streets, knocked to the opposite side of the street, got to her to pick her up, her clothes had been nearly torn from her body. She was rushed to the office of Dr. George F. Lee, nearby, where an examination was made. Several abrasions were bandaged on shoulders, elbows and hips, but it seemed that no bones were broken and that she was not in any danger unless internal injury should develop a serious aspect. She complained of her right hip hurting her. She was taken home by her parents Saturday night, and as no news was heard from her today, it was presumed that she was getting along alright.

Rainbow Girls Enjoy Party At Randolph Home

Members of the Rainbow Girls of Bryan enjoyed a party this afternoon, given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Randolph, by their daughter, Miss Lalla Dean. This is one of a series of entertainments which the organization is enjoying at this season to keep up interest during the hot summer months.

FRED B. ROBINSON TELLS OF THE PART HE PLAYED IN PAVING OF THE BOTTOM NEAR NAVASOTA

I was pleased to note that about two or three days after my recent article on progress of the Colorado-Gulf State Highway No. 6 appeared in The Houston Chronicle, the Harris county officials brought up the matter of an existing contract to build this road several miles from Houston south toward the Galveston county line, probably the entire distance, with the result that the contractors agreed to complete and open the road to the public in the following 60 days. This will materially improve the highway, as the new mileage will be hard-surfaced and first class in every way.

I had been aware of this contract, but so much time had elapsed since its letting, I had entirely overlooked the contract giving a resume of the condition and prospects of the road.

This calls to mind that five or six years ago a friend of mine got "stuck up" in the Navasota bottom, between Navasota and Bryan, for several hours, and took a snapshot picture of his predicament, which he presented to me, along with an account of his troubles.

I sent the picture to the State Highway Commission, with an appeal to concrete this bottom. Based on my request on my knowledge of the conditions. Soon thereafter, the state commission, in co-operation with county officials, ordered the work done.

Several years later, I met Dr. W. B. Bissell, president of Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College at that time, on the streets of Waco and asked him if the bottom road had been built. He replied, "No, the contract has been let a year or more, but so far nothing tangible has been done."

TABOR CHURCHES WILL CONTINUE JOINT REVIVAL LATER WHEN REV. R. L. BROWN HAS RETURNED HOME

The two churches in the Tabor community, the Alexander Methodist church and the Cottonwood Baptist church, agreed upon a union meeting to start with the second Sunday in July and last two weeks. The first week at the evening services the Methodist pastor was to preach and the second week at evening services the Baptist pastor was to do the preaching and during the last week the pastor of each church was to go over to his church and preach at the morning hour. At the very beginning of these services Rev. R. L. Brown was called away on account of illness of his mother and the services were continued for the one week and closed until the return of Rev. Brown. The services thus far were very successful and really had very large crowds, having on last Sunday night almost 400 folks and several nights 300 or more. There were three additions to the two churches

FINEST OF FRUITS ARE GROWN BRAZOS COUNTY

Bryan local market has had today some of the finest peaches, figs and plums from Brazos county orchards, seen in this section for many years. Two things seem evident, first that the seasons have been favorable, and second that the farmers of this county are realizing the fact that Brazos county can produce "as good as the best" in all crops, fruits and vegetables, and with this vision have planted more and bigger orchards of fruits trees.

L. H. Ferguson Is Here Visiting At Homes of Brothers

A visitor in Bryan over the week-end, who left today for his home at Dallas, was L. H. Ferguson, who is assistant treasurer of the American Paint & Supply Company of Dallas. He arrived in Bryan on Saturday night by car, accompanied by his wife and their little daughter, Josephine. Mr. Ferguson came down to spend a few days with his brothers, Judge H. O. Ferguson and County Tax Collector J. Marion Ferguson. L. H. Ferguson lived in Bryan in his youth but left here in 1908, going first with the Pierce Oil Company at Dallas and St. Louis, remaining with them about 11 years. He has been connected with the present firm by which he is employed for the past four years.

Mr. Ferguson visited Bryan last about three years ago. He notes many changes and improvements in the short space of time since last here. He was much impressed with the quantity and quality of the paving in Bryan, and stated that he thought it the biggest and best town between Corsicana and Houston.

Yours for "Good Roads Right Now, Not 30 Years Hence."

MRS. GEO. FOSTER ENTERTAINS CIRCLE NO. 5 OF FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH AT PLANTATION HOME ON BANKS OF THE BRAZOS RIVER

Genuine Southern hospitality, the kind that greets you with a handshake on the door step, and radiates throughout the home during your stay, was beautifully evidenced by the members of Circle Number Five of the First Baptist Church on Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock, when they were joint hostesses with Mrs. George Foster at her lovely home, "River Oaks," on the Brazos, ten miles west of Bryan. All the members of the Woman's Auxiliary of the church and their friends were guests at this delightful affair, and to say that it was a success from every viewpoint is but putting it mildly. So delighted were the ladies with the auto drive to "River Oaks," the cordial reception given them by their hostesses, the splendid program of the hour, the delicious refreshments served, and every feature of the entertainment that when Mrs. W. S. Howell took a "movie picture" of the crowd she declared it to be a "smiling gang." Mrs. Howell took in the scenes for the "movie" the Foster

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TO ASK REPAIR OF SLOUGH BRIDGE ON DEMOCRAT CROSSING NAVASOT

At the regular Tuesday morning session of the Board of Directors of the Bryan and Brazos County Chamber of Commerce, held this morning in the commercial rooms at 10:00 o'clock, Secretary Sam E. Eberstadt reported receiving a letter from S. P. Endgell of Sealy, winner of third prize in the Smith-Hughes Short Course story writing contest, acknowledging receipt of a check for $5, awarded by the Bryan Chamber of Commerce, and expressing his appreciation and the hope that he will have another chance to visit college.

Secretary also reported that officials of the Missouri-Pacific railroad visited Bryan on Monday and stated that they had come here expecting to visit and meet the people of Bryan in a half day, but finding out that a live, progressive town like Bryan could not be covered in that short space of time so they left to return Wednesday and spend at least a whole day. Several Rotarians were in the party and they will take dinner Wednesday with the Bryan Rotary Club.

Jno. M. Lawrence, chairman of the highway committee, reported that several had reported to him that the slough bridge across the Democrat crossing was badly in need of repairs and he had instructed Secretary S. E. Eberstadt to take the matter up with the Highway Commission at once. This bridge is on the 2 1/2 miles of road on Highway No. 21, in Brazos county.

Chicken-Pox Virus Is Prepared By Dr. Dunn of College

(Special to the Eagle).
COLLEGE STATION, July 16.—The annual supply of chicken-pox virus for Texas, enough to inoculate 5000 chickens against the disease, has been prepared by Dr. R. C. Dunn, associate professor of veterinary medicine and surgery at the A. and M. College of Texas. The poultry remedy weighs more than a pound, and when put in the form in which it is dispensed, will be sold for 2c per dose which is considerably less than it can be bought elsewhere in the country. Each year Dr. Dunn prepares the virus from the scabs on the combs of cocks which have been inoculated for the disease. The virus will be sold to poultry breeders in the state.

The main themes will be "Salvation" and "Service". We invite all Christians to attend and help to make this an old fashioned revival, is their plea. The public is cordially invited to attend. ## CATHOLICS IN VICTORY OVER HIGH SCHOOL

The team in cellar position beat the top-notch team in the Bryan Sunday School Baseball game on Allen Field on Tuesday evening, the Catholics defeating the high school by the close score of 3 to 2. It was a most interesting game throughout and one of the best that has been seen on this field this season. Both teams were at most air-tight in pinches and both pitchers hurled well. There were few safe hits.

By this defeat, the high school team is brought down in the standing to just one game ahead of the Methodists, the high school having played 13 games and the Methodists only 11, thereby making the odds about even between these two teams. The Catholic team climbed a little but is yet far from getting out of the cellar position.

Rev. R. L. Brown's Mother Died On Monday Night

A telegram received this morning by Mrs. R. L. Brown at College, brought the sad news of the death of Rev. R. L. Brown's aged mother, Mrs. W. R. Brown, at the family home in Rennett, North Carolina Monday night, July 19th, at 7 o'clock. The funeral was held at Rennett, this afternoon, with interment in the family burying grounds there. Rev. R. L. Brown was called to the bedside of his mother last Monday, by a message stating that she could barely live until his arrival. A change for the better came, on Tuesday, and the mother was permitted to see and be with her only son, for a few days before going on to Heaven. Rev. Brown arrived at Rennett on Thursday morning at 9 o'clock. The Order of the Eastern Star of Bryan, of which Rev. Brown is Worthy Patron and Mrs. R. L. Brown Worthy Matron, have expressed in many ways their sympathy in this hour of sad bereavement, and also sent an elegant floral offering from the chapter to Rennett, North Carolina for the funeral.

Reliance

RELiance, July 21.—The revival meeting closed at the Reliance Baptist Church last Sunday with two candidates for baptism and one by statement. Rev. U. C. Bracewell, assisted by Rev. J. W. Rawls, did the preaching and much good was accomplished.

Mrs. J. C. Merka, who has been visiting her father, W. J. Riley, for several days, received a message stating that her husband was seriously hurt in the oil refinery at Goose Creek. She left immediately to be at his bedside.

There will be a singing school to begin at Reliance Church Monday, July 26, with Prof. George Jones as teacher. We will be glad if every one in the community would attend, both old and young. We also invite the adjoining communities to come and help us.

A TRIP THROUGH THE WEST

By MRS. M. R. BENTLEY

A week in the Sierras of Central California would require just one week to relate in full; for each day is crowded with twenty-four hours of scenic beauty and mountain night. There are extra hours of daylight in which to enjoy the scenery and even then a surplus of night during which to dream fondly of a Texas dawn ushered in to the lulling strain of a mocking bird's song.

The beauty of the Rockies is a rugged beauty; and their naked crags seem to look in kindred suffering upon the foolish wanderer from the salubrious South who brings only half enough blankets as protection against the winter blasts that descend from the snowcaps in June. The beauty of the Sierras is the proud and haughty beauty of royalty or aristocracy, clothed in velvet and ermine, and having no thought for those who grovel in obedience at their feet.

Snow-crowned, their jagged rocks hidden by dense growth of stately pines, and with Lake Tahoe stretched at their feet like a jeweled mosaic; the Sierras were to us the very epitome of natural beauty as we viewed them in the mellowness of a June afternoon; yet we shall never forget the bitter and relentless cold of that same June night in Tahoe Forest with only half enough cover (if one ever has enough).

In this particular section of the Sierras are numerous lakes lying at an elevation in excess of 6,000 feet. Lake Tahoe is the largest of these, and its accessibility, together with its size and beauty, makes it one of the most popular summer resorts in the State.

The Truckee River is Tahoe's only outlet, and the lake is fed entirely by the melting snow from far above the line of every day activity. For seven to nine months of the year the lake shores are covered with Sierra snow. The Truckee Valley (or canyon) affords a comparatively gentle slope for auto-road and railroad, both of which are being rapidly improved to mountain perfection.

Lake Tahoe extends some forty to fifty miles along the border between Nevada and California, and the Truckee River flows out about midway on the California side.

Along the lake shore are located numerous resorts, with hotels, inns, cottages, camps, and every known form of accommodation for vacationists and tourists. A steamship of considerable size and pretense makes an eight-hour trip each day; distributing mail, freight and passengers to the various camps and resorts around the lake.

The water is crystal clear and so pure that garages use it in auto batteries just as it comes from the lake. No dead body ever rises to the surface on Lake Tahoe. This is said to be due to the "lightness" (lack of density) of the water and to the extreme coldness of its lower depths. The greatest depth is 1,600 feet.

A drive along Lake Tahoe on a typically clear California day reveals spots of brilliant blue and green on the lake's surface. These spots remain apparent as one passes through them on the steamer, and the color is said to be due to the water's clearness and difference in depth. At sunset, or sunrise, with a few light clouds which any Californian will immediately term "very unusual," Lake Tahoe becomes a giant opal, as its own brilliant blue and green mingles with the reflected gray of the clouds shot here and there with the soft pinks and purples of a mountain twilight.

Of the smaller lakes which we saw, Cascade at mid-forenoon was as green as an emerald and as placid as the pine covered mountain heights which were mirrored on its surface.

Donner Lake is the Alamo of California. It lies at the foot of Donner Pass, about thirty miles northwest from Tahoe. Here a party of immigrants (the Donner party) were snowbound in the winter of 1847, and all perished but one woman and her nursing babe. "Pioneer Monument," an excellent bit of art done in bronze, marks the spot where their rude shelter stood; and as if struggling to bring relief in answer to the prayer of those who kept the lonely vigil; Southern Pacific trains labor and puff incessantly through the snow shed high on the mountain side above the lake. The peculiar and never ceasing roar of trains in the sheds,echoing and re-echoing in the mountains, is sufficient to keep the living awake and might either cheer or disturb the souls of those who perished in vain hope.

All this could be seen and related by one lacking the physical ability to enjoy a mountain hike or any of the numerous forms of active mountain sport.

Whole volumes could be written about the "active" mountain pleasures, to say nothing of the thrills coincident to taking a mountain pass by auto. Of the latter, Emigrant Pass was one of the most beautiful as well as one of the easiest to negotiate. Just over the pass from Donner Lake lies the scene of California's gold rush in 1849; while the Pacific Gas and Electric Company has wisely utilized the intervening mountain heights to establish adequate storage reservoirs and power plants so that the one-time desert below may satisfy its age-old thirst and be persuaded to yield up a new form of gold; to-wit: fruit and farm products to feed the hungry, rather than that which only feeds and pampers the vanities of man, as did the product of the mines of '49.

Dire necessity to conserve copy paper and pencil for further requirement makes it imperative that this discourse cease, and so like a tottering veteran who never tires of telling about the war, I must leave off without having told "the half" about our week in the Sierras.

Mrs. O. P. Malcolm On Official Visit At A. & M. College

(Special to the Eagle)
COLLEGE STATION, July 21.—Mrs. Ola Powell Malcolm, field agent for the Southern States of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, arrived at the A. and M. College of Texas on Monday morning for a two-day meeting with members of the Extension Service. Mrs. Malcolm will give an exhibit in home demonstration work illustrating various home industries which have been developed by farm women.

Splendid work is being performed by the home demonstration agents in Texas, Mrs. Malcolm said, and added that their efforts are resulting in an increase of incomes among rural people through a greater utilization of resources.

Mrs. Malcolm will address members of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation at Mount Pleasant during the district meeting to be held July 22 and 23. The government field agent will visit the Oklahoma A. and M. College during her engagement at Mount Pleasant.
